DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1-4 and 6-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Higashida et al. (US 6,862,401).

Regarding Claim 1: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus for recording AV data containing at least one of audio data and video data, and recovery data for restoring management information for the AV data when AV data recording did not end normally, characterized by recording the recovery data interleaved with the AV data during AV data recording (column 2 lines 35-43).

Regarding Claim 2: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in claim 1, wherein the recovery data contains recording address information for the recorded AV data (column 7 lines 40-50).

Regarding Claim 3: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in claim 1, wherein the recovery data contains file management information for the recorded AV data (column 2 lines 35-55).

Regarding Claim 4: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in claim 1, wherein the recovery data contains playback time information for the recorded AV data (column 7 lines 40-50).

Regarding Claim 6: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in claim 1, wherein recovery data address information indicating the location of the recovery data is stored in a predefined area (column 7 lines 40-50).

Regarding Claim 7: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in claim 6, wherein the recovery data address information comprises multiple banks (column 6 lines 60-65).

Regarding Claim 8: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in claim 1, wherein recovery data address information indicating the address of the recovery data is stored in a recovery data file of a predetermined name (column 7 lines 40-50).

Regarding Claim 9: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in claim 8, comprising multiple recovery data files (column 7 lines 14-23).

Regarding Claim 10: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in any of claims 6, wherein the recovery data address information includes a serial number or time information (column 7 lines 40-50).

Regarding Claim 11: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in claim 1, wherein the recovery data is divided into at least two data segments that are recorded interleaved with the AV data when recording the AV data (column 7 lines 14-23).

Regarding Claim 12: Higashida et al. disclose a recording apparatus as described in claim 11, wherein the segmented recovery data contains a recording address of previously segmented and recorded recovery data (column 7 lines 40-50).

Regarding Claim 13: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in claim 11, wherein the segmented recovery data contains difference information from the previously segmented and recorded recovery data (column 7 lines 40-50).

Regarding Claim 14: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in any of claims 1, wherein the recovery data contains address information for the next recovery data (column 11 lines 49-56).

Regarding Claim 15: Higashida et al. discloses a recording apparatus as described in any of claims 1, wherein identification information for distinguishing the recovery data from other recorded data is recorded with the recovery data (column 7 lines 40-50).

Regarding Claim 16: Higashida et al. disclose a recording apparatus as described in any of claims 1, wherein the recovery data is interleaved with AV data of a specific size (column 8 lines 10-21).

Regarding Claim 17: Higashida et al. disclose a recording apparatus as described in claim 1, wherein address information denoting where the recovery data is recorded is stored in nonvolatile memory (column 7 lines 13-25).

Regarding Claim 18: Higashida et al. disclose a recording apparatus as described in claim 17, wherein the nonvolatile memory is removable (figure 2).

Regarding Claim 19-24: Claims 19-24 are rejected for the same subject matter as claims 1, 6, 8, 11, 17 and 10 respectively.

Regarding Claim 25-26: Claims 25-26 are rejected for the same subject matter as claim 10.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Higashida et al. (US 6,862,401).

Regarding Claim 5: Higashida et al. discloses all the claim limitation of claim 1, include the AV data is MPEG-encoded data (column 2 lines 60-67), except it did not point out the recovery data contains a start address for an I-picture in the recorded AV data; however it is well known in the art that MPEG standard has header to identify I-picture and therefore an official Notice is taken.

It would have been obvious to one ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to incorporated the well known of I-picture header into Higashida et al. reference in order to accurately decode the compress video signal using the I-picture header.

Prior Art

Art Unit: 2621

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

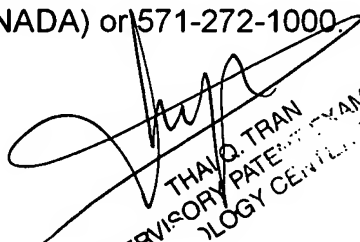

The cited references relate to a method for real time recording/playback of data to/from an optical recording medium and method for managing files system.
